D. H. S. OUR ALMA MATER

'Till the seas become abated
and the stars forget to shine,
'Till the clouds obscure the sunlight,
and 'tis darkness all the time,
'Till the raindrops cease their falling,
and the wind forgets to blow,
'Till this gay old world stops whirling,
D. H. S. our love shall know.

Hail to all her sturdy heroes,
heroes of the court and field,
Ones who know no end of victory,
heroes who would scorn to yield;
With a vim and zeal unequaled
they will fight unto the end,
Each one knowing 'tis his duty,
his school's honor to defend.

When in years to come we're severed,
from that home we love so well,
In our hearts the golden memories of our youth will ever dwell;
So when e'er we see that banner,
and we watch its folds unfurl,
We will cheer for Alma Mater
D. H. S. a priceless pearl.

DEDICATION

With sincere apprecia ion for her loyal service throughout these twenty years, we the Senior Class of Disputanta High School, proudly dedicate this Annual to Miss Bernice Nicholson.

As first grade teacher, she has laid the foundation upon which most of the members of ours and many other classes have built. She is always loving, sympathetic and understanding, patient beyond measure, and a true friend, who is dearly loved by all of us.

CLASS HISTORY

When September of 1945 arrived, we were ninteen happy Freshmen entering Room 10. We were eager to get under way our first year of high school work. We had Miss Edith Nunnally as our home room teacher there to help us. We elected the following as our class officers: First-term President; Alice Wyborney, Second-term President; William Togger, Secretary; Billy Hatch, Treasurer; Blanche Horne, and S. C. A. Representative, Daniel Moncol. We chose blue and gold as our class colors and the red rose as our class flower. When June came, we were sure we had a good start in high school and had gained in knowledge.

We began our Sophomore year on September 6, 1946, with seventeen pupils, and Miss Pauline Cogle, our home room teacher, to direct us. We weere determined to make it a profitable and successful year. We elected the following class officers: President; William Vargo, Vice-President; William Togger, Secretary; Billy Hatch, Treasurer; Jimmy Williams, and S. C. A. Representative, Daniel Moncol. We changed our motto of the previous year, "Up and Coming" to "Honor Lies at Labor's Gate." During the year, we were kept busy with lessons and plays for assembly. A number of girls and boys made the ball teams and some of the girls joined the Glee Club. June came, exams were over, and we were proud to think that we were Juniors.

September 1947 came and fourteen pupils marched proudly into the Junior room to find a new member of the faculty, Mr. Howard Yates, who would be our home room teacher and class sponsor. The officers of the Junior class this year were as follows: President; Jimmy Williams, Vice-President; William Togger, Secretary; William Vargo, Treasurer; Billy Hatch, and S. C. A. Representative, Daniel Moncol.

A day that each Junior will remember is December 17, 1947, the day our class rings arrived.

In the last week of February we were glad to welcome Mary Smith, a new member to our class.

Several members of the class made the ball team again this year.

Time seemed to be slipping away very fast--Exams would soon be here and we would say farewell to the junior class.

September the seventh, 1948, sixteen students assembled in Room 12 to begin their final year in high school. We were very sorry to learn that Miss White, the former Senior home room teacher, would not be with us this year. Mrs. Sluka was there, however, to meet us and be our home room teacher and sponsor. We all pledged to cooperate, and match our talents to make this our most successful year of all. We elected the following class officers: President; Blanche Horne, Vice-President; Billy Hatch, Secretary; Daniel Moncol, Treasurer; William Vargo, and S. C. A. Representative, Jimmy Williams.

We were glad to welcome Marian Holdsworth, as a new member of our class.

The following members were elected to the S. C. A. Student Council this year: Alice Wyborney; President, Daniel Moncol; Vice-President, Blanche Horne; Secretary, and Mary Smith, typist.

This year under the guidance of Mr. Kinkead, a basketball team was organized. The following members of the Senior class made the team: Daniel Moncol, William Vargo, Jimmie Williams, and Billy Hatch. The boys worked hard this year, hoping that in the future Disputanta will have a good team.

As this annual goes to press, we are looking forward to graduation. Our work and play here together have been pleasant and profitable.

We shall greet the "Day of Graduation" with joy and gladness in our hearts.

WHO'S WHO

This poem that I write
of our senior class
Is to help to acquaint you with each lad and lass.

First there is Blanche
so pretty and bright
She's a business man's dream and the class's delight.

Next comes Mary
a talkative girl
If someone mentions boys
she's off with a whirl.

Then there is Marion,
she's Mary's pal.
With that auburn hair
she's quite a gal!

You must know Jimmie
our class's quick wit
That he tickles your funny bone
you'll have to admit.

Sally's a blonde
with eyes so blue
She dearly loves dancing and softball, too.

A right handsome fella
is our Billy Hatch
When it comes to practical joking,
he has no match.

Now, we see Daniel
all spruced up and neat Toward Hopewell he's going his Nancy to meet.

Evelyn's a girl
who's tall, dark, and lean
And with her, a certain Freshman would love to be seen.

Ruth is someone you simply must meet
With her power in softball
she can't be beat.

George is a friendly guy
    who is small and bespeckled
About his pint-size
    he's always been heckled.

Frances is small,
    cheerful and gay.
And she always throws her fondest smiles out Jimmie's way.

William Vargo, the class's man of muscle
Is really a whiz
    in any kind of tussle.

William Togger who has the looks of the class
Has been seen out stepping with a certain Junior lass.

Ruby, ordinarily, is a right quiet gal
But how she does jabber
    when with Evelyn, her pal.

Jenny likes books
    and reads for her pleasure,
Her love for good fun
    just cannot be measured.

Lastly, here stands
    your most humble poet
Who has faithfully studied verse
    but you'd never know it.

CLASS PROPHECY

May 15, 1959

Dear Diary:

Today was a day that I shall long remember. I very unexpectedly met one of my old classmates, and during a long conversation, we managed to recall all of our old classmates and what they were doing. But first, let me tell you how we happened to meet.

This morning I had some shopping to do, so I went flying downtown in my new car, which incidentally, I somehow just couldn't get used to. I had my fingers crossed that I would find a convenient parking space--and there it was--right in front of my favorite dress shop. It looked rather small, but maybe I could manage. Well things didn't go just right, because as I saw a policeman coming my way, I realized that I had the back wheels on the sidewalk. Who should it turn out to be but George Zuskin, one of my old classmates! Thank goodness, maybe he would take pity on me. It was the first time we had met since 1949. Believe me, we lost no time in trying to remember what had become of our dear old classmates. Our first thought turned to William Vargo, because he had just a few days before signed a contract to pitch for the New York Yankees. We knew that he was bound to be a success. Daniel Moncol, who used to be another of our outstanding ball players, had become a well-known wrestler. George told me that recently he had seen a prized-painting, with the name "Billy Hatch" masterfully signed to it. (Wonders never cease)

Through correspondence, I had managed to keep up-to-date with the activities of many of the girls. Blanche Horne is a very successful movie star--with Sally Reed as her dress designer. Frances Avery, who must have received some "height" from her fairy god mother, is one of Power's best models.

As George and I were right in the midst of our review, we suddenly had the surprise of our lives! It took a startled gaze to recognized the big business man coming our way, dressed in a handsome black suit, accompanied with an expensive cane, to be none other than Jimmie Williams! He, too, joined our discussion. It seems that some of our classmates have, during the last ten years, changed their goals. We used to think what a wonderful nurse Alice Wyborney would make, but now she is well on her way making opera singing her career. It appears that Marian Holdsworth and Ruth Wayner have changed their musical tastes. We couldn't help but recall how, back at D. H. S, Ruth always wanted to hear string bands, and Marian would love the orchestras. But now Marian sings on the Sunshine Sue program and Ruth is a ballet dancer. I am still trying to figure it out.

Jimmie recalled that he had heard something about Jennie Mae Nunnally becoming a school teacher. I immediately wondered if Evelyn Oleyar had too, because she and Jennie Mae always "stuck together" but George enlightened me on that by saying that she had married an undertaker! He also said that the week before he had given Ruby Emory a ticket for speeding, but she was in such a hurry he didn't have time to find out what she was doing. By this time we seemed to have covered the class of '49, with the exception of William Togger. He is still undecided as to what he really wants to do, so for the time being, he is just baby-sitting! So with a brief farewell, Jimmie, George, and I parted with the hope of meeting again before the end of the next ten years.

P. S. George forgot to give me a ticket!

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

The members of the Senior class have not completely recovered from the great shock received a few days ago when they were informed that that their fated day was drawing near. Before this sad day arrives, we want to legally dispose of our property, imaginary or otherwise, to avoid any feuds which may arise in the future among our survivors.

THE WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1949 being sound in mind, do hearby establish and publish this to be our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

To the Faculty, we will:

1. To Miss Cogle, a period in which to teach music.
2. To Mr. Walton, a secretary to answer telephone calls while he is in class.
3. To Mr. Kinkead, a new Studebaker to replace the old one he now drives.
4. To Miss Parker, a class of shorthand students who can take dictation at the rate of 120 words a minute.
5. To Miss Tomko, some paper and paint to aid her in her art work.
6. To Mrs. Rice and Mr. Beazley, a clock so the boys and girls will get to class on time.
7. To Miss Nicholson, some glue to keep her little folks in place.
8. To Miss Simmons, a 45 minute period for assembly.
9. To Miss Moss, some new books so she will have a few new stories to tell her children next year.
10. To Mrs. Barlow, a new pitchpipe to replace her old one.
11. To Mrs. Sluka, a special bus on which to ride home so it will be nice and quiet.

ARTICLE II

To the Juniors, we will:

1. A book on etiquette so they can polish up on their manners before becoming Seniors.
2. Our home room and our teacher.

To the Sophomores, we will:

1. The right to write notes and to chew chewing gum in class.
2. The honor of having a home room upstairs.

To the Freshmen, we will:

1. A round room to eliminate standing in corners.
2. Some dignity so they can one day be referred to as dignified Seniors.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Twenty-five fun-loving boys and girls were welcomed into high school on September 6, 1946 by the Freshman home-room teacher, Mrs. Louise Wilson. After the first few days of play and pretended work, we gained some dignity in some way or another and elected class officers. We chose as our unsurpassed motto, "Knowledge is Power"; our class colors, blue and white; and as our class flower we chose the red rose. Then, as the months flew by, ahead loomed the welcomed day of June 6th for an enjoyable vacation.

On September 9, 1947, we began our sophomore year with Miss Pauline Cogle as sponsor. Although our number had diminished by two, Mary Ann Blum and Gordon Maitland having withdrawn, we gained another pupil, George Stewart. Our class motto, colors and class flower were retained and committees for holiday occasions were appointed with new class officers elected for the year, 1947-48. As we strived to open the door to the opportunities which D. H. S. offered us in scholarship, athletics and citizenship training, the days shortened until that greeted day of June 10, 1948 arrived.

Once again, our class was delighted to be together to tackle the third year under the leadership of Mr. Henry Kinkead, Jr., who was a new member of the faculty. A few days of registration and monotonous listening by such energetic pupils, the following class officers were elected: President, Gladys Williams; Vice-President, Kenneth Barlow; Secretary, Bill Williams; Treasurer, Graham Holdsworth; S. C. A. Representative, Elsie Bresko; Parliamentarian, Marvin Dickens. Our class motto, colors and class flower remained the same as in the Sophomore class.

A basketball team was started with Mr. Kinkead as coach. The junior class is proud to be able to say that many of its pupils have gone out for basketball, baseball, and softball.

We are now anxiously waiting for the arrival of our age-ordered class rings that we may symbolize the way in which we stand in devoted relationship with D. H. S.

It seems now, that time is flying; we must soon say farewell to the junior classroom.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

We were received into high school by Mrs. Paul Sluka, the Freshman homeroom teacher, on September 9, 1947. In a few weeks we elected the following officers: President, Mary Vesely; Vice-President, Linwood Simmons; Treasurer, William Brockwell; Secretary, Dorothy Livesay; Reporter, Lois Compton; Song Leaders, Esther Bresko and Fred Simmons. We chose as our motto: "Honest Students Are Good Students." As class colors we chose red and white, and as our class flower, the tulip.

Beginning our sophomore year on September 7, 1948, we had lost three members, Lewis Stewart, Owen Simmons, and John Harrison.

This term we elected these as our class officers: President, Esther Bresko; Vice-President, William Brockwell; Secretary, Lois Compton; Treasurer, Dorothy Livesay; S. C. A. Representative, Linwood Simmons; Reporter, Helen Mikulcik; and Song Leaders, Robert Brockwell and Mary Vesely. We kept the same motto and colors as of last year, but decided to have the red rose as our flower.

Dorothy Livesay

THE FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

On the bright sunny day of September 7, 1948, twenty eager Freshmen entered the halls of Disputanta High. We climbed the stairs to Room 10 and met our new homeroom teacher, Miss Parker, who was standing there to greet us. At first glance she thought she had a very attentive and orderly class, but soon found it to be exactly opposite.

We elected the following officers: President, Benny Soltes; Vice-President, Willie Horne; Secretary, Doris Kvansnicka; S. C. A. Representative, Dorothy Oleyar; Reporter, Mary Sue Elder. We picked blue and gold for our class colors and the golden rod as our class flower. We decided that "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," would be our motto.

Our first Christmas party was a success with each having all the refreshments he could eat. We donated sums of money to the Red Cross, the March of Dimes, and to the tuberculosis campaign.

We are now in our second term and are looking forward to a certain day in June.

GOING MY WAY

DOCTOR TOGGER: "How's that patient in room 53 who swallowed the half dollar?"
ALICE (nurse): " No change yet, Sir. "

SALLY: "What's your dog's name?"
RUTH: "Ginger."
SALLY: "Does Ginger bite?"
RUTH: "No, Ginger snaps."

MARY: "The older generation thought nothing of gettin' up at five in the morning."
MARIAN: "The younger generation doesn't think much of it either."

BILLY: (on phone) "Doctor, my little boy just swallowed my fountain pen! "
DOCTOR VARGO: " Heavens! I'll come at once! What are you doing in the meantime?"
BILLY: "Using my pencil."

DANIEL: "She said she would be faithful to the end."
GEORGE: "That sounds good."
DANIEL: "Yes, but I'm the halfback."

FRANCES: (hotel guest) "I can't eat this stuff. Call the manager."
BILLY: (waiter) "It's no use. He won't eat it either."

WILLIAM: "Still engaged to Frances?"
JIMMY: "No."
WILLIAM: "Good, how'd you get rid of her?"
JIMMY: "I married her."

RUBY: "Could that clerk tell me the name of that stairway that moved?"
EVELYN: "Escalator."
RUBY: "I don't want to ask her later, I want to ask her now."

JENNIE: "They say the King of Denmark leads a dog's life."
SALLY: "Of course. He's a great Dane."

Daniel came home from the party with big holes cut in his clothes.
ALICE: "What happened to your new suit?"
DANIEL: "We were playing grocery store and I was the Swiss Cheese."

JIMMY: "What time is it when the clock strikes thirteen?"
BLANCHE: "It's one o'clock."
JIMMY: "Wrong, it's time to get the clock fixed."
